

COURT OR CASE STATUS:

Facility staff members are generally not informed as to the specific details of each inmate's outstanding criminal cases. Each inmate has the ability to request that information from their attorneys, the court administrator's office, the probation department or parole officers as appropriate. Facility staff members are not attorneys and do not provide legal advice. Should you wish to know the status of an inmate's current legal status, court date, hearing date, etc., you should ask the inmate through visitation or the inmate mail system.
